THE MONTH IN REVIEW

Impact in Action.

August is a season of new beginnings, as students return to school and communities prepare for the months ahead. Thanks to your generosity, Native communities had support for that transition — from school supplies and nutritious food to safe, supportive spaces for those living in dormitories and shelters.

Thank you for being the best part of this work and for helping Native families and communities access the resources they need to thrive.

FOOD AND WATER

Relief For A Rosebud Grandmother

At 72, Darlene is raising her granddaughter while caring for a household of 10. When money runs out and food runs low, a bag of groceries brings more than breakfast — it brings relief.

"I grew up here and have been here all my life. You just can't afford to go out of town, so this really helps."

— Darlene, Rosebud Sioux Tribe

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Care That Goes The Distance

Twenty-four miles down a dirt road, a family waits for a familiar face. Community Health Representative Bernina travels rugged roads to bring them health care, essential supplies and the comfort of knowing someone is there.

"It's really good that PWNA helps out with hygiene supplies, that's what they need out there."

— Bernina, Navajo Tribe

ANIMAL WELFARE

A Second Chance

Program Partner, Nola B., used a $10,000 grant from PWNA to provide lifesaving veterinary care, behavioral training, and rehabilitation. The funding helped dogs like Holly Bea and Hazel recover from illness and neglect, preparing them for loving homes and giving them a second chance.

"We want the doggies to have a better life than before... Your grant funding assists us in doing just that. Thank you so much for all you do!"

— Nola, Walthill Nebraska
